BLURB #1

The command to love one another is still true, even in the 2024 election season. It sounds simple: Love. One. Another.

We don't need to tell you how much tension there is in our church, our homes and workplaces, especially around politics. We want to help all of you hold that tension honestly – and with love.

To that end, we're excited to introduce you to a new small group study, One Anothering. It's an eight-week discussion guide around politics for groups. Together, we can go on a journey toward a deeper love of God and one another.

BLURB #2

Dear friends, since God so loved us, we also ought to love one another.

1 John 4:11, NIV.

The command to love one another is still true, even in the 2024 election season.

What if we could hold tension honestly and with love? It is possible to learn how to develop healthy conflict cultures. One way we're going to work on this is by using a new small group study, One Anothering. This 8-week guide reframes political conversations and helps people embody Christlike qualities in their interactions around politics.

BLURB #3

Let's be real: Conflict isn't going anywhere. In this politically contentious moment, it feels like things are out of control – and there isn't anything we can do about it.

There is a step we can take, together. We're excited to introduce a new small group study, One Anothering. It's an eight week discussion guide around politics that invites Christians to cultivate mindsets and habits to grow in Christian virtue.

This group study isn't about changing beliefs, but learning how to hold others' beliefs and still be in relationship with them.

Participate in politics with a Kingdom posture that helps us to love one another, even as our differences remain.
